Always keep in mind that a good picture can make the difference between a sale and no sale. Spending extra time on your photos will always be in your best interest.

Listings without pictures, or with bad pictures, simply won't get the volume of traffic that listings with good pictures receive. If you don't get the traffic, your item won't sell for what it should or may not sell at all. The more professional looking your photos are, the better. Spend the extra time, your bank account will thank you!
